Citizens might seek financial restitution

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Eagle Staff

The leader of a citizen's group which is battling expansion of Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus with funds forwarded by Romulus and the Romulus Board of Education is planning another suit against the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) asking for damages caused by expansion.

Fouad Berry, who claims to represent the 500-family Romulus Airport Neighborhood Action Committee, said Federal District Judge Corhelio G. Kennedy gave the group some hope in obtaining damages following the judge's ruling in favor of the citizens, the city and school district on a request for an injunction against further construction of a 12,000-foot runway.

Judge Kennedy ruled late Monday that the WCRC, the Federal Department of Transportation and the Federal Aviation Administration failed to comply with requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 in drawing up an environmental impact statement on the expansion of the airport.

Judge Kennedy enjoined the federal participants in the construction program from working on the planning or providing funds for the construction program.

It was not known immediately whether the injunction against federal authorities would halt construction of the runway. However, construction was stopped temporarily yesterday.

"This was a great victory for the people of Romulus," said Berry in announcing the court decision Monday evening. "Now, the people can go back and fight for damages caused by the expansion plans."

A WCRC spokesman refused comment on the court order pending a study of its ramifications by commission attorneys.

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt said he thinks the decision "is beautiful for the people of Romulus," because it sets a precedent requiring the WCRC to assess the impact of future expansion of the airport on Romulus before requesting federal funds.

"The city has maintained all along that the people of Romulus are the victims of the expansion, since it continued without regard to their welfare," Troutt added. "Now, the WCRC will have to take some notice of the people, if it wants to participate in federal programs for airport construction."

Troutt, however, said any discussion of a future suit for damages "is premature."

"I know the results of the order on the federal government," Troutt continued. "But I don't know what impact it will have on other developments."

Judge Kennedy could rule on only federal participation in the airport program and not on county or state participation in the runway construction.

However, grants from the federal government are providing a substantial portion of the anticipated $33.1 million runway cost.

It was on a recommendation by Troutt that the Romulus City Council approved a $15,000 expenditure to help fund the airport suit. The Romulus Board of Education matched that sum.

Troutt said he would not make any comment on recommending a similar expenditure to start a suit on winning damages from the WCRC for the expansion.

"While I'm sure the WCRC totally disregarded the people, schools and value of land surrounding the airport in its expansion plans, it's too premature at this time to discuss joining a damage suit," Troutt added.

He admitted that the city could stand to receive some funds from a suit, but residents would have to take the initiative.

"I testified before a hearing on the airport that the city and schools lost more than $8.5 million in taxable land, water facilities, water debt charges, roads and schools due to expansion," Troutt said. "I think there should be some way, either by law or possibly court action, for the two governmental agencies to obtain some repayment."

"I think a good means may be to receive funds from Michigan or at least Wayne County for the operations of the airport in Romulus and the inconvenience it works on the city's residents. But that's another matter which has to be resolved by the city."

The mayor said he anticipates better cooperation from the operators of the airport following the retirement of some WCRC administrators.

You're kidding

Young Marc Hermann thought visiting Grandma would be fun, but not quite as much fun as he ran into when Grandma — Mrs. Fred Hay of Huron River Drive — took the youngster to preschoolers' program at the Romulus Public Library. The Romulus Roman Chief Photographer Lothar Konietzko captured the 2-year-old's reaction on film during a visit at the facility.

A helping hand

Residents reach out; Help stricken families

Hundreds of Romulus residents have banded together to help the three families in the Oakbrook Townhouse Complex on Eureka Road who were put out of their homes by a tragic fire which took the life of an 18-month-old Romulus girl.

According to Linda St. Denis, a resident consultant for Republic Management Co., which runs the Oakbrook Townhouse complex, individual residents donated more than $700 in cash, food, clothing, furniture and bedding to such an extent during the past week that the three families, including 11 persons who were put out of their townhouses by the early morning fire March 18, requested that donations stop.

"Some of the families were feeling guilty because it seemed as though they were profiting from the fire," said Miss St. Denis. "The response of the community was overwhelming."

Eighteen-month-old Rosalind Ruffin, died in the fire which gutted four units of the 8-unit townhouse building. Services for the child were held Friday, however, members of the family asked that details on the services not be printed.

Miss St. Denis said that not only residents inside the townhouse complex contributed to the victims of the fire, but also residents and organizations from Romulus.

'It's been gratifying...'

The Hayti, Merriman and Harrison Elementary School PTAs contributed funds, with Hayti and Merriman raising more than $700 for the families and the Harrison group raising an undisclosed amount of money.

Children in the families put out of their apartment units by the fire attend Merriman School.

Cub Scout Pack 739 of Merriman donated food and clothing.

The American Red Cross donated money to the families including funds to purchase new bedding for the 11 persons who were displaced by the fire.

The three families who were forced to leave townhouse units because of the fire have relocated within the apartment complex.

"It's been a gratifying experience seeing how members of the Romulus community come to the aid of those who have problems in their time of need," Miss St. Denis said. "The response was so overwhelming that extra goods donated by residents of the city were given to the St. Vincent dePaul Society to help the needy in other communities."

Township heads react to sheriff's fund ruling

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

Township officials may escalate their battle with the Wayne County Board of Commissioners over the removal of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol services from townships.

George Moore, supervisor of Huron Township, said he will be calling a meeting of officials late this week to request support for an appeal of a Wayne County Circuit Court ruling that the Board of Commissioners need not provide protective service to townships at no cost to township general funds.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Thomas J. Foley last week ruled that the Sheriff's Road Patrol cannot be compelled to provide police protection without charging townships for the cost out of a 1-mill tax given the townships by the county.

"No mandatory requirement is anywhere to be found requiring the sheriff as the chief conservator of the peace to patrol the county roads," Foley ruled. "The absence of any mandatory duty on the part of the sheriff to patrol the roads of the county with any given number of men would leave the Board of Commissioners free to exercise their discretion."

Seven townships, including Huron, Van Buren and Sumpter, had contested a plan by the Board of Commissioners to cut off Road Patrol service to townships unless the governmental bodies contract separately with the sheriff for the protection.

The current 28-member staff for patrolling townships is funded until the end of this month.

"Huron Township would be naked if the Road Patrol were removed," Moore said after hearing of the court ruling. "I see no alternative but to appeal."

Moore added that the township's 5-man fulltime and 7-man parttime law enforcement staff would be hard pressed to keep the peace in the township.

"There's talk of having more than 2 million people come through the Lower Huron Metropark in Huron Township this year," Moore continued. "There's no way the township force could patrol that without help of the sheriff."

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer said:

"The township has 21 parttime workers to handle police protection as an aid to the sheriff."

"While this is a start toward police protection, there simply is no revenue to provide the $300,000 to $500,000 per year which would be needed to provide fulltime police protection."

Townships in Wayne County are given proceeds equal to a 1-mill levy by Wayne County to fund operations in them. One mill in Van Buren raises slightly more than $200,000 yearly, while one mill in Huron Township raises less.

Sumpter Township officials would not talk of the threatened removal of the sheriff's protection until Township Supervisor Elmer Parraghi was available for comment.

The Board of Commissioners has spent more than 12 years discussing the cutoff of what they term "free" sheriff's protection to the townships by the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol.

Road Patrol operations are funded by the county general fund from taxes collected in Wayne County's seven townships and 36 cities.

Gollwitzer said he believes it is the imbalance between the number of townships in Wayne County and the number of cities which has brought the issue to a head during past years.

"I think the Board of Commissioners has sat down and counted votes to find out it can remove the sheriff's protection from townships without any trouble," he continued. "But I maintain that the sheriff's protection from the funds collected by all communities in Wayne County was good enough for governmental agencies in the county in the past and should be continued."

Moore added: "I can't see why the ruling was made, since the townships didn't ask for anything more than they're getting now."

"The whole thing has me perplexed," Gollwitzer said he sees a possible light in an appeal to a higher court of Judge Foley's ruling.

"We've been dealing with the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol and the Wayne County Circuit Court in this whole thing," he added. "It may be good to get this out of Wayne County and somewhere where the pressure wouldn't be so great."

The appeal of Foley's ruling must be made to the Michigan Court of Appeals.

Kiwanians to serve benefit pancake meal

The Romulus Kiwanis Club is planning its annual Pancake Festival Day for April 12 at the Romulus Progressive Hall on Ozga Road.

The club, which uses proceeds from the day-long sale of pancake meals as funding for various community projects, has received the backing of Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt in its campaign.

Troutt declared April 12 Pancake Festival Day in the city.

Proceeds from the annual festival help fund a dental program for indigent children and allows the club to participate in the Michigan Kidney Foundation, the Boy Scouts, St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital, the 4-H Club, the Wolverine Boys State, Romulus Youth Organization, the Huron Valley Girl Scout Camp, the Romulus High School Honors Banquet and the Romulus

High School Annual Football Banquet.

In declaring Pancake Festival Day, Troutt said: "It's service clubs such as the Kiwanis who do so much not only for the Romulus Community, but also Wayne County and the State organizations, that makes it good to live in this city."

"I'm proud of the Kiwanis, and urge all citizens to support them in their efforts."

At Health-o-rama

Huron mothers form health testing service

A group of 12 concerned mothers who were upset at the lack of health care facilities in the southern Huron Township area will be offering a comprehensive testing service free of charge to residents of the townships of Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren and Belleville and Romulus.

The Huron Township Health Committee, formed more than 10 years ago by Mrs. Joseph Balog to lobby for more health care in New Boston, is offering a Health-o-rama between 9:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. on April 23 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church of New Boston. The program will include 15 medical tests, a blood bank program and inoculations for children and their parents at little or no cost to participants. "Our original goal was to make them available to the community as a whole," Mrs. Balog said. "But the thing has snowballed, and we seem to add more and more tests with more volunteer help to the point where the committee served 800 people last year."

The health committee, which is a volunteer group not formed by any governmental body, has obtained free help from the Michigan Cancer Foundation, National Cancer Foundation, Wayne County Health Department, American Red Cross and five doctors and 14 nurses from throughout southern and Western Wayne County to provide a myriad of preventive tests and inoculations to area residents.

Volunteer workers, including 40 persons from Huron Township, will offer a blood bank, cancer examination of the breasts and Pap tests for cervical cancer free of charge to any participants in the program.

Those who show up for the tests will be asked for a donation to help fund other Huron Township Health Committee activities.

"What started out as something relatively minor has turned into a year-round activity," Mrs. Balog said. "Besides the Health-o-rama, the committee offers a food and clothing bank for the needy in Huron Township, immunization and fluoride programs for students in Huron schools and a Christmas basket program for needy families."

A recent food drive in the Huron School District netted the health committee enough food to feed more than 40 needy families in Huron for a 7-week period.

Mrs. Balog thanked The Rev. Daniel Richert, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, for his work in the Health-o-rama.

The Rev. Richert donated the St. Paul's Lutheran Elementary School, located at Craig and Ellis streets in New Boston, to house the health activity.

"I'm pleased because people like The Rev. Richert always seem to come forward each year to provide better health care to Huron residents," Mrs. Balog said.

Girl Scouts to launch 2nd cleanup campaign

More than 300 Girl Scouts from throughout Romulus will gather at the Romulus City Hall tomorrow to receive their initial instruction on the city's second annual cleanup campaign.

The girls, all members of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council and Romulus school and civic club-sponsored Girl Scout troops will be charged with informing the public of the campaign.

Joan A. Lee, chairman pro-tem of the Romulus City Council, and head of this year's cleanup effort believes it will set a tone of success which will make organized cleanup campaigns needless in the future.

"It's looking good, and all the people are pulling together to aid in it," Mrs. Lee said of the campaign. "I think after this campaign, residents of the city will be more attuned to maintaining their premises on a year-round basis rather than on the 1-month per year basis which the city organizes.

"I'm thankful for help such as the Girl Scouts are providing in informing the public of our goals."

Girl Scouts and Brownies from Romulus will join Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts in announcing the cleanup campaign and will work to beautify areas of the city.

Those who take part in the campaign will be asked to plant Marigolds on their property.

The flower has been chosen as the official plant for Romulus, and Mrs. Lee hopes the flower's annual spring blooms will remind residents of the need to keep their community in good repair.

"For many people, the first image they have of Romulus is that provided by the homes and businesses along the roads," Mrs. Lee added. "I think anyone will admit that in some cases that image is lacking. "But if we're successful in our efforts, then that image will be upgraded and maintained throughout the history of Romulus."

Joining Mrs. Lee on the Romulus Beautification Committee are Gordon Slivey of the Romulus Rotary Club, Donna Lee Zavitz of the Girl Scouts, Jean Voigt of the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts, Diane Boger of the Romulus Community Schools, Richard Zavodsky of the Romulus Jaycees, Eugene Wilson of the Romulus Kiwanis Club and Lynne Slaughter of the Romulus Area PTA Council.

In addition, The Rev. Ronnie England will represent the Romulus churches while Dorothy Icenogle will represent the senior citizens and Libby McNett the Jaycee Auxiliary.

Also serving are Mary Baback of the YWCA, Ethel LaMar of the American Progressive Association and concerned citizens James Hatton and Jeannette Hunt.

Millage passes

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP — Van Buren voters approved a 6-mill renewal request by the Van Buren Board of Education by a nearly 2-1 margin in balloting last week. However, approval of the millage, which raises some 23 percent of the district's budget, may not rule out the need for an additional millage to the 26.65 the district uses for operating expenses.

Official joins transit board

Romulus has an official on the Michigan Municipal League's (MML) Mass Transit Study Committee, Beverly McAnally, mayor pro tem of the city.

"I think it's important for Romulus to be involved in this aspect of the MML because of the ways transportation bills have an effect on the city," Mrs. McAnally said after her initial meeting with the MML. "With Detroit Metropolitan Airport entirely within Romulus' city limits and the need for other transit opportunities in the city, I think it's vital that Romulus be involved."

Mrs. McAnally added that her first contact with the transportation committee was more of an orientation session than a work session.

"The other members are veterans, and I came into the meeting cold," she continued. "But now I know what I should be studying in the area of transportation to become effective on the committee and intend to get busy."

Mrs. McAnally said she sees her post with the MML as a starting point to lobby for transit improvements in Romulus.

"I think the community would become more vital if it is to receive funding for one of the initial dial-a-ride systems in the state," she added. "There are hundreds of citizens who have a need for transportation, and no means to obtain it."

Another of Mrs. McAnally's concerns was to obtain some sort of "relief" for Romulus taxpayers for the burden of having the airport within the city.

"I'd like to see communities in the same situation as Romulus getting some consideration as an impacted area and to receive some sort of additional aid for the tax losses caused by the airport taking so much land," she said.

However, the council member realizes that the MML is not in the position to write legislation, but simply to recommend action on legislation.

"The major benefit of the appointment will be to provide more information on the transportation matter," she said. "It is vital that some official from Romulus keep up on these matters to insure that the city isn't left behind in receiving any benefits due it, either by virtue of the airport or by virtue of transportation funding plans now proposed at the state level."

Communities wake up to history

People who live around Lexington and Concord in Massachusetts are girding for the arrival of April 19 on their calendars.

That will be the 200th anniversary of the midnight ride of Paul Revere, and thousands of Americans have indicated they want to celebrate the event by visiting the area where a signal from the Old North Church in nearby Boston, relayed by a hard-riding silversmith, alerted the Minutemen to their first encounter with British forces in the American Revolution.

For Lexington and Concord that anniversary will remove any doubt that our country's Bicentennial celebration has begun.

The "official" opening of the 22-month Bicentennial period passed on March 1 — a date with no particular significance in the history of the Revolution — but there are signs that the nation's birthday may be a "sleeper" about to come to life.

Philadelphia has been startled by a poll indicating that as many as 45 million Americans hope to visit the national shrines in that city next year. After first being disappointed that there would be no major exposition in their city to mark the Bicentennial, many Philadelphians now are scrambling to provide for a wave of tourists that may be as great as if such an exposition had been mounted.

Preparations for our Bicentennial have proven two things. One is that there is no lack of imagination around the country for events and observances that could provide a regional or local focus for the Bicentennial.

State and local commissioners have registered fully 6,000 Bicentennial events to take place from now until the end of 1976 — all tied to history, the present scene or ambitions for the future.

The other fact that has emerged is that the rank and file of Americans have done a good job of procrastinating when it comes to final planning and organization for many of these observances. Many of our communities may find that the Bicentennial is upon them, a spark of public enthusiasm has been ignited, and they are rushing to make this significant period what it deserves to be.

The decision to make the Bicentennial a truly nationwide event, rather than one focused on the Eastern seaboard where events of the Revolution took place, was a good one.

It is not just the American Revolution that we should be remembering at this time, but the entire 200 years of history that unfolded afterwards and the challenges and opportunities that we face for the future. There is no corner of the country that the Bicentennial should pass by.

Paul Revere alerted sleeping colonists to the secret approach of the British in April 1775. It's no secret right now that the Bicentennial is coming, but some Americans need to be routed from their slumber if they are to avoid waking up later to find they missed the chance to make the Bicentennial a memorable occasion for themselves and their communities.

The City of Romulus is one of the communities that finally has been routed from its slumber with a slow start on Bicentennial planning. The city's Bicentennial Committee met for the first time this week and has before it a very important task.

In the Belleville-Van Buren Community, planning is going full force with the Bicentennial Committee and its co-chairmen at the helm. The local committee also actively is represented on the Wayne County Bicentennial Committee.

As they see it

Airport expansion upsetting

To The Editor: I am enclosing an editorial commentary which I will be responsible for. I am more than concerned about the lack of communication regarding the sad take-over by our government thus far to make Willow Run into a freight complex, thereby destroying beautiful Belleville, Van Buren Township and adjacent areas.

It is much, much too late to make an air freight complex out of Willow Run. I am hoping you will support us in this angry fight to save our homes, save our property and keep our area the paradise it is and has been. We do not need to be pushed around by money-hungry men of power.

Edith Phillips of Belleville

With all the subtlety and deviousness of a snake in the grass the Wayne County Road Commission and the Michigan Transportation Department are about to kill beautiful Belleville. How? By pushing down our throats a freight airport just across the road.

Should Willow Run Airport be allowed to operate as a freight airport our homes will become zero in valuation. Our yards will go unused because no human being will be able to withstand the physical torture of noise that will come with this so-called growth potential.

Homes within a 5-mile radius will be unable to get mortgage funds and a fringe area will need sound proofed homes to get it. Nothing is mentioned about sound-proofing the yards where children play and people relax from a hard day's work.

There are people on the Task Force Committee living in Ypsilanti who want the freight airport yet Ypsilanti and Ypsilanti Township stand to lose as much as Belleville and Van Buren Township. We already have planes coming off of Detroit Metro Airport in Romulus overhead as they go westward. Will our government add to this noise the noise of a 1,000 flights out of Willow Run by four engine prop planes that churn the air with noise day and night?

The Task Force completely has failed to take the people into its plans. A weak get-together is planned for April 9 and 10 in Belleville and Van Buren Township Hall to speak to people face to face. How many people will go to see the Task Force representatives? How will the ordinary person talk to these experts from the Wayne County Road Commission and the Michigan transportation office, who at this point couldn't care less about robbing the homeowner of his home or keeping him awake or blasting him out of his yard or apartment.

The shocking story about the plan is that the freight concept has failed to uncover the dangers of air freight.

This area cannot contain a freight complex. The Ft. Worth-Dallas airport had to clear three miles of homes to become an airport. The City of Burbank, Calif. took on Lockheed and forced all planes to take off and land over the ocean. The City of Toronto does not allow planes to leave after midnight and noise control is in operation at that airport.

There are dozens of other sorry stories such as the beautiful town of Woodmere, Long Island which was killed by the noise of Kennedy Airport. The people failed to see the problem in time to do anything about it.

Unless the people of this area become alert to the problems a freight complex will give, unless they voice their opinions and let the FAA know how they feel, unless they alert the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments and unless they get behind people such as the mayor of Belleville and the supervisor of Van Buren Township to see the problem, then this beautiful place called Belleville will be lost forever.

For Willow Run Airport to become a freight complex is past midnight. Too many people are involved. Too many homes are involved. We could be spared the freight complex if our economy gets worse but according to the people now planning to rape and destroy our homes and our lives they are not counting on this to happen.

All they are hoping is that nobody cares enough to raise their voice. That way the powers can say: "The people were not against the plan."

Writer seeks info

To The Editor: May I ask a favor?

I am writing a biography of Olive Johnson, a former teacher and social worker in the Inkster Public School District for 27 years. It is difficult for me to find people who were helped by her even though there were many. One teacher referred to her as "a mother for the community." People in Inkster regretted her retirement.

Will you please publish my appeal for everyone who was acquainted with Miss Johnson to contact me?

I would appreciate that anyone recalling incidents about or sayings of Miss Johnson contact me.

Miss Johnson came to Inkster in 1941 to teach. Seven years later she became a social worker for the school district, and held that position until her retirement in 1967. Because of her unselfish and dedicated work, she has been honored several times.

Now I want to write about her inspiring life. I am urgently in need of human interest items that reveal Miss Johnson's character and work.

Smoking—a crime?

To The Editor: Should smoking be a crime in Michigan? Several bills which have been introduced in the Legislature seek to do just that. Are these bills forerunners of total prohibition of tobacco products?

With the pressure our society faces today, each interest contained therein is trying to make its special concern heard and circulated as truth. It then becomes incumbent upon the media to present both sides of an issue, express its own opinion, if it wishes editorially, and then let the people decide what is best for them.

Many articles, much broadcast time, and many public speeches have brought the issue of the rights of the non-smoker to the forefront today. But what of the rights of the smokers? This is the purpose of this letter.

But we would deny on the basis of scientific evidence that non-smokers actually are harmed by breathing other's tobacco smoke. The annoyance and the health question then, are the points that are the controversy. Further, it also is a logical question of whether this is even a proper area for governmental interference.

We submit that the real answer to the question lies in one idea—courtesy, and not law. Thoughtfulness by smokers and tolerance by non-smokers will lead to voluntary abstention in special circumstances and respect for individual freedom of choice in others.

Let's take a look at our lawmakers

By WES THORP
Enterprise-Roman Lansing Bureau

For many people, the profession of politics and its practitioners, the politicians are a mystery which you hear about over the supper table, or in bits and snatches from news reports.

Many people hold the idea that all politicians spend most of their time under tables, cutting deals and taking money. There also is the notion that they all have plush offices, manned by young secretaries who serve as mistresses after work.

Such attitudes and notions have been passed from friend to friend, parent to child, and by periodic news reports which give the impression that all politicians practice what are in reality the excesses of a few.

At this point, after the Legislature has recessed for the Easter holiday, it's appropriate to take a quick look at the State Capitol and the people who have been in it since the start of the new legislative session in January.

First — the legislators — the 148 people elected to the House and Senate last November — this group doesn't appear to be substantially different from most others.

It's a microcosm of the population in Michigan. There is a wide variety of representatives of the socio-economic spectrum — there are wealthy lawmakers and there are the poor ones.

The same can be said for work habits, political philosophies and personal habits. There are those who are very diligent and there are those who act as if they are just taking up space. There are those who are very liberal and those who are conservative. Some carouse around like sailors in port and some spend whole evenings doing nothing but reading bills and governmental reports.

There are many who truly want to accomplish something positive during their service as a legislator and there are those who only want to stay in office.

The point is that those 148 state legislators — 110 in the House and 38 in the Senate — are 148 individuals, different people who come from their own unique background and hold unique ideas and habits.

About their offices. Most are modest. In the House, some members probably own homes which have bigger closets. There are a handful of House members who have offices which are considered by most as more than adequate.

In the Senate, it's a different story. Some senators have used a blank check signed by the state to redecorate and enlarge their offices. Many have plush carpeting, fancy wallpaper and rich furnishings.

A legislative workday — during the past three months, the days have been long and frustrating for most of the legislators.

The state started the new legislative session in a semi-crisis, with unemployment soaring to abnormal levels and with the state treasury threatened with giant deficits.

The lawmakers' week starts at 8 p.m. on Monday for a formal session where the calendar can be either light or very heavy. Some legislators started their day early in the morning meeting with constituents, listening to all kinds of people trying to tell them how to do their job.

For the balance of the week, it's a series of committee and caucus meetings in the morning with sessions in the afternoon.

The fourth floor of the Capitol Building on a weekday morning usually is a beehive of activity as committees meet to consider bills which have been introduced. Members jockey back and forth between meetings which are held simultaneously, voting on bills which can do everything from changing the amount of aid a family will receive to directing the thickness of walls built in new homes.

For some lawmakers, it has been a tiring three months, filled with many problems and many roadblocks and for some others, it has just been another opportunity to play the role of somebody important.

'Troubleshooter' is new nursing home head

The Van Buren Convalescent Home has a new director.

He is Henry Van Essen, 43, who took over duties at the home last week from Rosalyn Korotkin.

Van Essen brings with him experience in convalescent home management after working since 1968 with CARE, a home management consulting firm.

He has traveled about Illinois, Indiana and Michigan as a troubleshooter for convalescent homes, finding weak spots in their management and correcting them.

Most recently he was in Grand Rapids.

In accepting the job in Van Buren Township, Van Essen said:

"I would expect to continue to render the same outstanding service offered at the convalescent home during the term of my predecessor.

"I am particularly pleased to see more and more community participation in the work of the home."

According to Mrs.

Korotkin, Van Buren Convalescent Home has been expanding services with volunteers from the community offering letter-writing service to residents of the home and paying visits to those who may not have a relative to visit them.

Eastern Michigan University has designated the home a training area for its registered nursing program and assigns student nurses to the home to gain first-hand knowledge of care for the aged and infirm.

More than 200 persons occupy the home which employs 200 persons full-time from the Belleville-Van Buren area.

Mrs. Korotkin, who came to the Van Buren Center from the Detroit Health Department, takes 16 years of experience in the health field with her to Arizona where she intends to manage another convalescent home.

"While I'm sad at leaving the friends I have in the Van Buren Township area, I'm proud of the great strides at improving nursing care which have been made during my time here," she said.

White House missive sent to civics class

Sixth-grade students at the Van Buren School District's Rawsonville Elementary School have "made" the President of the United States' letters list.

The more than 20 students have received a personal message from President Gerald R. Ford for their letter of encouragement to the President sent as part of a recent civics class.

"You were very thoughtful to send me such nice messages of encouragement," President Ford wrote to the students. "While I always enjoy hearing from young friends like you, your kind notes were particularly good to receive."

The President's letter was a pleasant surprise for the students, who wrote to Ford at the urging of Virginia Payne, their teacher.

Each child received a copy of the President's reply to their letter.

The class' correspondence was part of a civics project, devised by Mrs. Payne, to inform the students of the workings of government.

Each student not only wrote the President, but also their congressman — Marvin Esch — with questions concerning the operations of government.

Congressman Esch sent a personal reply to their questions in a letter mailed to each child's home.

The letters were so encouraging to some students that they are continuing correspondence with Esch.

'Read all about it' -- start at your local library

During a regular visit to the Belleville Public Library and a chat with Helen McClatchey, head librarian, she happily reported that as of March 19 the library had hit an all-time high in circulation. Which proves? — that people are definitely reading more and taking advantage of the myriad of tomes available right in the heart of the city.

Among the newer arrivals is another offering by Harriette Arnow, the author whose down to earth mountain folk novels clutch at human failings (and heartstrings). Another is the topical story being discussed by young and old alike dealing with curious and mysterious occurrences in the Atlantic Ocean.

Of course, those are just two of many, many interesting books which cover any category you care to search out.

"Seven Science Fiction Novels" by Herbert Wells. The Time Machine, The Island of Dr. Moreau, The Invisible Man, The War of the Worlds, The First Men in the Moon, The Food of the Gods, and In the Days of the Comet make up the book.

Troops band together for Girl Scout Week

Girl Scout troops of Edgemont Elementary School invited troops from St. Anthony's School to join in their birthday celebration. Over 150 girls flocked to the Edgemont multipurpose room to sing, dance, present plays, partake of good food and have an all-around good time.

Girl Scouting, founded in 1912, by Juliette Gordon Low, marked its 63rd birthday this year on March 12; 63 years of providing leadership and activities for millions of girls between the ages 6 through 18 the world over.

Leading the production at Edgemont was Junior Troop No. 369 under the leadership of Mrs. Adrienne Whittico and Mrs. Joan Rogell.

Karen Sparrow, a Junior Scout from Troop No. 369 was hostess and emcee for the affair. Troop 369's activities included a skit on "How Scouting was Started" and the meaning behind each of the 10 Girl Scout Laws.

Brownie Troop No. 362, also from Edgemont and led by Mrs. Cookie Scarnano, opened the show with the Brownie greeting song, "If You're Happy and You Know It", and with the help of Assistant Leader, Mrs. MarRita Remus, the troop also supplied lemonade with dollops of lime sherbet.

Other Brownies from Edgemont Troop No. 255 supplied cookies as well as two very funny song skits, one concerning an old lady who swallowed a fly, and the other about Noah's ark and the animals it contained. The leader of Brownie Troop No. 255 is Mrs. Nancy Trevorrow whose assistant is Mrs. Sunny Tannous.

The guests from St. Anthony's rounded out the performance by teaching Girl Scout songs to their hostesses. Junior Troop No. 278 and Brownie Troop No. 601 led by Mrs. Georgia Gramlich and Mrs. Mary Herring, combined talents to teach a variety of songs to their friends including the "Slice of Orange," "Stay on the Happy Side" and "Billboard Song". Their Assistant leaders include Mrs. Kay Maher and Mrs. Mary Lentz, both of troop No. 278, and Mrs. Judy Mrekvicka of Troop No. 601.

Special guests included several parents and Edgemont's newly-formed junior troop led by Mrs. Linda Wahr and Mrs. Donna Adams. Happiness awards were given to the leaders and Troop Services Director Mrs. Susan Studer for their part in the production, (happiness awards being huge smiley necklaces). The girls then retired to the refreshment table for cookies, punch and a beautiful birthday cake decorated by Mrs. Clara Knox, a celebration Juliette

Low would have been proud to attend.

Brownie Scouts are girls in first through third grades; Junior Girl Scouts, fourth through sixth grades; and Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts, junior high and high school age.

For more information about girl scouting for your daughter contact your local school about troops, in existence or call the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council at HU 3-2370.

Air base chapel site of pre-spring vows

The Page Manor Chapel at Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio was the setting March 15 for the double ring ceremony which united Myra L. Breazeale and Edouard D. Cardona in holy matrimony.

Chaplain Brethauer presided at the 2 p.m. nuptials before some 20 assembled guests who later attended a reception at the young couple's new apartment in Fairborn, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Irvin of 39354 Chase Rd., Romulus, and Mr. and Mrs. Servando Cardona of 551 Marshall St., Elizabeth, N.J. are parents of the newlyweds.

GIVEN IN marriage by her step-father, the bride appeared in a long-A-line gown designed with short, bell sleeves, a rounded neckline and a tie at the back. Lace and brocade were used to define the sleeves and waistline.

Complimenting her dress was a colonial bouquet of miniature blue and white carnations, white rosebuds and baby's breath tied with green velvet ribbon.

As her sister's maid of honor, Suzanne Carol Breazeale donned a pink double knit gown and carried a nosegay of miniature pink and white carnations and baby's breath accented with white satin streamers.

Glenn M. Gartland of Syracuse, N.Y. was asked to serve as best man.

FOR HER daughter's wedding, Mrs. Irvin chose a sleeveless nylon and taffeta gown in a purple print with a matching coat. Her corsage was comprised of purple carnations and baby's breath.

The bridegroom's mother wore a sleeveless knit gown to which she pinned her corsage of green tipped carnations and baby's breath.

On departing for a 10-day honeymoon in Florida, the bride changed to a blue double knit pantsuit. The young marrieds are now making their home at 117 Old Yellow Springs Rd., Fairborn, Ohio.

Both young people are serving with the U.S. Air Force at Wright Patterson Base. The new Mrs. Cardona graduated from Romulus High School and her husband from Thomas Jefferson High in Elizabeth, N.J.

Kim's 16th celebrated

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Becoming a teen-ager just has to be one of a gal's more important steps in life and recently it was Kim Youtsey's turn to step into the limelight. The party honoring her special year, was a surprise planned by her mother, Mrs. Carmal Youtsey, and was held two days before Kim's St. Patrick's Day birthday.

Arriving at the Youtsey's St. Aloysius Street home in Romulus for the occasion were nine of Kim's classmates, Pam Potts, Sherry Joseph, Terri Grenier, Anita Glaab, Dawn Cahill, Diane Hackett, Mary Renke and twins, Debbie and Diana Zachery.

Records, games, teen-talk, pizza and all the usual party fixin's kept the girls awake throughout the night; making 8 a.m. mass at St. Aloysius a pretty bleary-eyed service.

Shower for Kathy

There's going to be a wedding in the Glinski family — that of their daughter, Kathy, and Ron Kott of Dearborn. So on Sunday, March 23, some 80 relatives and friends gathered at the Romulus VFW Club for a miscellaneous shower honoring the couple.

Kathy, whose parents, Al and Anita Glinski, recently moved from Romulus to Almont, has reserved St. Stephen's Catholic Church in New Boston for the May 24 ceremony.

Assisting the bride-elect's mother with the party, which included bingo and a full-course dinner prepared by Mary Wisniewski, were the future bridesmaids, Marilyn Treece, Lynn and Terry Renke and Patty Glaab, all of Romulus; Jill Brent of Dearborn and Janice Ross of Holt.

Dedication ceremony

Amy Denise Cunningham, the infant daughter of Ronald and Cindy Cunningham, was dedicated to God March 9. The 7 p.m. service, held at the Huron Valley Baptist Church in New Boston, was conducted by the Rev. Joseph O'Kelly.

Following the rite the family returned to the home of the maternal grandparents, William and Grace Mix in New Boston. Others attending were the baby's aunts and uncle, Linda Francis, Betty Jane Titus and Wanda and Larry Cox, all of Belleville.

The Cunninghams, who reside at 25830 Bretton Park, Flat Rock, welcomed their first child Jan. 26 at Riverside Osteopathic Hospital in Trenton. The 6 lb., 14 oz. baby's paternal grandparents are James and Willie Cunningham of Trenton.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

Member By Invitation National Selected Morticians

HAROLD REDISKE, HAROLD REDISKE, JR. — DIRECTORS

A lot of people turn jesters on April Fool's Day. Silly happenings cause a lot of laughter. It is a day on which many people seem to slip from solemnity and enjoy a prank, usually at some one else's expense. Like sending a naive unsuspecting person to the hardware store for a left handed screw driver. Or sending a simple soul to the library for "The History of Eve's Mother"...

Whether one approves or disapproves of jests on April Fool's Day, is it not a good time to admit one's own follies — and laugh at them? Can any one say he or she has never done anything foolish? Actually, is this not a human trait that makes us all kin? Is it a good time to recount foolish mistakes and relate them to a sense of humor? Is it not good therapy to cause people to LAUGH WITH YOU — NOT AT YOU? Perhaps above all, is it not a good way to destroy malice?...

Berry patch fits in drilled barrel

Home gardeners in Western Wayne County will discover a barrel of fun, and big savings in dessert bills, by using an old space-saver trick in planting strawberries this season. Though maximum yields cannot be expected from plants in a "strawberry barrel," it is a unique and enjoyable way to grow the succulent fruit.

The first step in making a strawberry barrel is to find the barrel. An old wooden barrel is best, but other containers can be adapted. Do not use a container that once held vinegar or dill pickles, though. Strawberry plants cannot stand an acid environment.

The next step is to drill holes in the sides of the barrel, locating the first row about five inches below the top of the barrel, the next row six to eight inches beneath that and so on until the bottom row is about eight inches above the bottom of the barrel.

The holes should be about 1 1/2 inches in diameter and about eight inches apart. Stagger them so holes in one row are not directly above or below the holes in neighboring rows.

Around the center of the bottom of the barrel bore five or six drainage holes, then mount the barrel on casters or set it on a base of bricks.

Start filling the barrel by placing a 2-inch layer of pebbles, coarse gravel or broken flower pots in the bottom. Then fill the barrel with a loam or sandy loam soil to the bottom row of holes. Pack firmly.

Insert the plants into the lowest of holes, roots first, so the plant crowns are even with the outer surface of the barrel. Spread the roots out well and cover with soil.

Continue to fill the barrel with soil, repeating the planting process at each row of holes and packing the soil firmly to prevent settling when you water.

About a third of the way up the barrel, place on end in the center a 3- or 4-inch perforated tile, metal pipe or wood channel long enough to reach the surface of the barrel. The pipe or tile will carry water and air to the lower plants.

When the barrel is filled to the top, plant six or eight plants on the surface and water thoroughly by filling the central tube with water. Water as often as necessary but avoid waterlogging.

Fertilize every two or three weeks until September with a small amount of a complete fertilizer dissolved in the water.

For winter protection, you can move the barrel inside or cover it with several inches of straw.

April is time to start plants for good crop

This month is the time to start tomatoes, peppers and eggplant indoors from seed, according to Robert Herner, extension horticulture expert at Michigan State University.

"If you start these plants indoors this month, you'll have 6- to 8-week-old transplants to put in the garden by the time the danger of frost is past," Herner said.

In southeast Michigan, mid-May usually is safe planting time, with the last frost past.

For healthy transplants, start with good seed from a reliable dealer, sterile soil and clean tools and containers. Sanitation is important to prevent "damping off," a fungus disease that often attacks transplants.

Water the soil or other planting medium so it is moist but not sticky. Scatter seed thinly and evenly over the surface and cover it with a fine sprinkling of soil.

Cover the container with plastic film and set it where it will get temperatures of 60 or 70 degrees F. As soon as the first seedlings appear, remove the film and put the container in direct sunlight.

Stamp-size lot is big enough

Your garden plot may seem no larger than a postage stamp, but it doesn't mean you can't grow your own fresh vegetables. It just takes a bit more imagination.

Specialists say that vegetables don't have to be grown in neat, long rows with wide open spaces. Try mixing them in among the annuals in your flower garden, growing them as borders and trims or planting them in containers on your porch or balcony.

Many vegetables, including cherry-tomatoes, spinach, carrots and lettuce are very attractive plants. Tomatoes, in fact, were grown as ornamental plants years before anyone got the nerve to eat one. For borders along a walk or flower bed, try leaf lettuce, romaine, swiss chard, beets, carrots, radishes or even strawberries.

If you have room for a small garden plot, concentrate on vegetables that will give high returns for the space they use, such as lettuce, onions, beans and bush squash. Grow tomatoes in cages and train beans and vegetables like cucumbers and lemons to grow on fences and stakes. Plant quick-growing crops like radishes and green onions in odd spots around your home, don't take up garden space with them.

It should be remembered that the cultural needs of these mini-gardens are the same as those of any big plots.

Airport plans put to the public

A pair of meetings to allow citizen participation in determining the future use and ownership of Willow Run Airport will be held April 9 and 10 in Belleville and Ypsilanti, according to the Department of State Highways and Transportation.

The sessions will be informal walk-in types lasting from 1 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. on April 9 at Belleville City Hall and April 10 at Ypsilanti township Hall.

To assist public understanding of preliminary

'Such visual aids as maps, brochures, displays and other pertinent information will be available...'

proposals regarding the airport, such visual aids as maps, brochures, displays and other pertinent information will be available at the meetings for inspection and comment.

The specific purpose of these meetings is to stimulate citizen interest and communication in the airport study and to obtain citizens' view on the airport," said John P. Woodford, director of the highway department.

The highway department and the University of Michigan-current owner and operator of the airport—authorized the study, being conducted by the Stanford Research Institute and the Willow Run Advisory Committee.

The airport, which straddles the Washtenaw-Wayne County line, was built early in World War II in conjunction with the production of b-24 bombers at the nearby Willow Run Bomber Plant. It currently is used for general aviation operations and as an air freight terminal.

It is listed as the fourth busiest airport in Michigan.

Funds used to equip new township officers

The six new police officers hired with funds forwarded to Sumpter Township through the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) have new equipment.

The Sumpter Township Board of Trustees has received delivery of two new police cars and is awaiting delivery of another two cars for use in patrolling the 36-square mile township.

In addition, the township purchased a moving radar speed monitor to improve traffic control and new communication radios for the Sumpter Police Department.

Automotive roundup

Executive predicts new demand

A top American Motors Corp. executive has predicted that the new-type personal automotive transportation being developed in the United States will help fuel an increasing demand in world markets for smaller-size U.S. passenger cars, recreation and utility vehicles.

Adding that over the last two years U.S. car exports have jumped 30 percent following a 10-year period of no change, Lawrence H. Hyde, vice-president of the firm's international operations, said the rise has "centered in what we call compact cars and in 4-wheel-drive vehicles."

"The increased world demand for U.S.-built passenger cars falls directly into a market segment where our advanced new Pacer fits," he said. "We believe this trend will continue, and aided by more competitive pricing due to a more realistic value of the U.S. dollar in international markets, American Motors will benefit accordingly with products as innovative as the Pacer."

Five million motorists have returned "report cards" to Ford Motor Co. rating the repair services provided by new-car dealers, and 93 percent gave the dealers good grades.

The customer survey, a first in the auto industry, began in 1972 when Ford asked its 6,700 dealers nationwide to start giving service customers "report cards" following repair work to their vehicles. When mailed back by customers, the cards go to Ford Parts and Service Division for computer analysis.

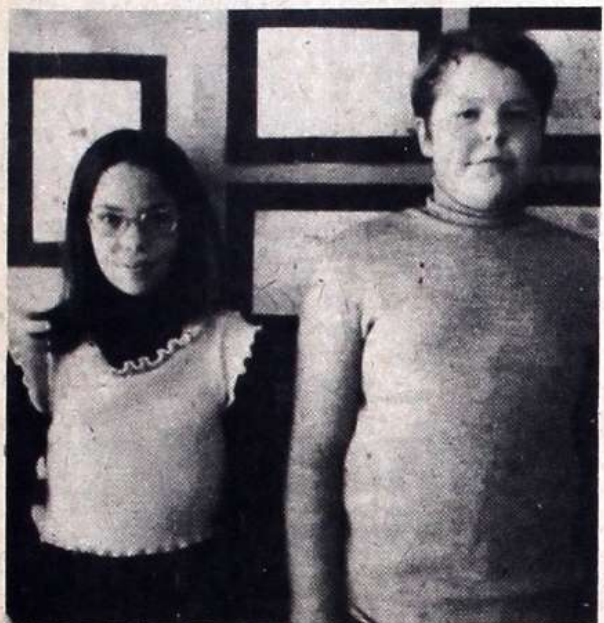

"The key question on our card asks the service customer if he or she was satisfied with the quality of the repair work performed," said Joseph A. Kordick, parts and service programs manager. "Thus far, 93 percent have indicated satisfaction on that score."

Pension benefits amounting to some $93.7 million were paid last to 32,500 Chrysler Corp. retirees or their surviving spouses represented by the United Auto Workers, the automaker said recently.

The firm said $76.8 million was paid in regular pension benefits and $16.9 million was paid in supplemental payments for employees who retired early or who have permanent total disabilities. The supplemental allowance is paid to bring current pension benefits up to $625 a month before age 62 and up to $395 a month between 62 and 65.

A total of $631 million in benefits has been paid since the pension plan first was negotiated between Chrysler and the UAW in 1950.

General Motors recently said it is increasing production at three plants in the second quarter, reducing indefinite layoffs of hourly workers by about 3,600 between April 14 and June 2. Together with production increases announced previously, open ended worker layoffs will be reduced by 10,500 in the April-June period, GM said.

ELWELL CHAMPS — Winning the recent Elwell School Spelling Bee on the word "tobacco" was Kim Hoffman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hoffman of 18094 Martinsville Road, who edged out runner-up Chris Lockwood, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lockwood of 17546 Sumpter for the school championship. Both students are in the sixth grade at Elwell.

Area servicemen finish instruction

Completing a variety of training programs and induction procedures, several Western Wayne County residents have advanced in rank and moved to new bases as they serve with their chosen branch in the United States armed forces.

A Van Buren Township serviceman is undergoing training in Texas on front line air warfare defense in the United States Army. He is Pvt. Michael H. Hedman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hedman of 10000 Jackson St.

The private completed his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., March 6 and was home on leave prior to going to Texas for his advanced infantry training in his army skill.

Hedman is a former student of Belleville High School. His father is a former Van Buren Township treasurer.

Navy Aviation Structural Mechanic Third Class John W. Harveh, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Harvey of 38 Carriage Lane in Belleville, was promoted to his present rank while serving with Attack Squadron 176 at Oceana Naval Air Station, Virginia Beach, Va.

Marine Lance Cpl. Curtis A. Czajkowski, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Czajkowski of 13285 Edgedale Dr. in Belleville, reported for duty at the Marine Corps Air Station, Beaufort, S.C. A 26-year-old Belleville resident has been stationed in Misawa, Japan as a member of the U.S. Naval Intelligence division.

Richard Wiegand, the son of Dorothy Wiegand of Belleville, recently was stationed in Misawa after serving in Vietnam, Korea, Bermuda, Turkey and the United States during his time in the service.

Wiegand is a 1966 graduate of Belleville High School.

Prior to going to Japan, Wiegand was home on a 45-day leave after serving for a year in Sinop, Turkey with naval intelligence.

New billing procedure eliminates estimates

Electric utility customers who wish to avoid bills based on estimated use now will be able to get monthly meter-reading cards under a new plan by the Detroit Edison Co.

According to Frances S. Procopio, manager of the firm's customer and marketing services, readings are made by an Edison meter reader every two months and power use for the month between is estimated.

This practice started in October 1973 when, with the permission of the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC), Edison switched from bi-monthly to monthly billing to assist residential customers in budgeting for their electric bills.

"Since our monthly billing program began we have made meter-reading dial cards available to customers who wished to avoid estimates on our scheduled reading dates," Mrs. Procopio said. "This was an accommodation to people whose meters are inaccessible to our meter readers."

"We discussed this practice with the commission staff and felt, following that discussion, that we were in compliance with the recent MPSC order on billing practices."

"This may have been a misinterpretation of the intent of the new rule and we most certainly will extend this service to all residential customers who wish to read their own meters on a monthly basis."

Edison meter-reading will continue to be on a bi-monthly basis but meter-reading cards will be mailed on a regular basis to customers who request them, either by phone or in person at the company's customer offices.

The company said it anticipates the new procedure will be implemented in time for early May billings.

Helping hands reach farther

Sponsors of the Helping Hand Thrift Shop in Romulus recently held their first orientation session with a new advisory board representing a variety of service agencies in an effort to upgrade and reorganize the type of projects handled by the shop.

At the present time, the thrift shop works to assist the needy with donations of clothing, food and other needed items and aims in particular to help infants, children and the elderly or disabled.

A secondary purpose is to direct needy people to agencies which most effectively can help with their problems.

The advisory board has been working with thrift shop officers to improve efforts in the latter area.

The advisory board includes representatives from such agencies as Catholic Social Services, Wayne County Circuit Court, the county Board of Health, county Department of Social Services, Operation Mainstream, United Community Service and a number of area churches.

The thrift shop is located in the basement of Romulus Wesleyan Church at Five Points in Romulus. Those desiring further information may call 941-5323 between 9 a.m. and noon on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Sumpter hires 13 with CETA funds

Funds from the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) have given Sumpter Township the ability to hire new personnel.

The Sumpter Township Board of Trustees has approved the hiring of a township tax assessor, a part-time secretary for the township supervisor, a full-time police secretary, six new police officers, a dog warden, an ordinance officer, a deputy treasurer and a custodian.

The funds, sent the township to help ease the unemployment in Wayne County, can be used to hire persons for public service jobs.

Salaries are not to exceed $10,000 under federal regulations drawn up to monitor the use of the money.

Rainbow 4-Hers in finals

The Rainbow 4-H Club of Belleville has several semi-finalists in the Spring-O-Rama competition for 4-H organizations at Westland Center in Westland.

David Norris and Brian Norris also qualified along with Kathy Posegay.

Judy Norris hosted the most recent meeting of the club at her home with the Ladies Auxiliary of the Huron River VFW Post 4434 presenting the club with an American flag.

Coral Smrcka, Americanism chairman, and Edna Harris, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, made the presentation after reading a story about the meaning of the flag.

Tiger Swimming Club has 2 state champs

If Tiger Swim Club coach John Stosick is wearing a bigger smile than usual, he has several good reasons. Two state champs, and one of the top 10 AAU age group swim teams in Michigan, are just a few reasons why the Tiger skipper is happy.

Led by state champs Mike Stoelton and Russ Bearance, the Tigers amassed a total of 48 points as many of the swimmers hit their best times of the season in the State AAU Meet held at Western Michigan University last week.

STOELTON, a 7th grader at North Junior High, captured first place in three age group events. Taking first in the 50 yard butterfly at 28.4 he came back to win the 50 yard freestyle in 25.8 and the 100 free in 56.2. Besides the honor of being a state triple winner, Stoelton was voted runner-up Most Valuable Swimmer in the 11-12 year old age group.

Swimming in the 13-14 year old age group, Bearance took first in the 100 yard backstroke at 1:01.6 and fifth in the 200 back at 2:20.0. Russ also clocked his best time ever in the 200 yard individual medley with a 2:19.6.

Chris Renton took sixth place in the 50 yard butterfly at 30.5 and fourth in the 100 fly at 1:07.3, finishing just ahead of Stoelton at 1:08.2. While not placing, other team members hit their best times in both individual events and as part of relays.

Howard Renton, going in the 15-18 year old age group against high school and some college swimmers, was clocked at 1:58.2 in the 200 yard freestyle, 5:22.0 in the 500 freestyle and 1:03.9 in the 100 yard backstroke.

Renton's time in the 500 free would have qualified him for the consolation finals in the recent Suburban 8 league meet.

Mark Stoelton, All-Area swimmer as a sophomore at Belleville High School, went 51.6 in the 100 yard freestyle and 1:56.1 in the 200 free. Pike Walker, putting in "20 or 30 minutes of practice at a time" during the last month, swam in the 100- and 200-yard breaststroke with times of 1:06.2 and 2:30.0.

Joe Thomas hit his best time ever for the 200 yard breaststroke with a 2:38.9. South freshman Phil Berger swam his best split in the 100 yard butterfly as part of the 400 yard medley relay at 1:02.8.

The 200 yard freestyle relay of Jeff Bullock, Bob Memering, Chris Renton and Mike Stoelton placed fourth in the 11-12 year old age group at 1:52.2. The 400 free relay of Berger, Chris Liedel, Thomas and Bearance took fourth in the 13-14 age group at 3:45.1.

This year, the 75 member strong Tiger Swim Club has set and re-set 30 club records, a figure sure to grow with continued competition this year.

Stoh to coach Romulus '9'

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Despite an uncooperative weatherman, the 1975 high school baseball season will get underway this week with most of the area teams scheduled to play nonleague rivals.

However, Romulus High and first year coach Dennis Stoh's debuts were delayed on Monday as the game against Westland John Glenn was called off because of inclement weather.

Romulus was due to host Ann Arbor Pioneer yesterday and will take on Cherry Hill tomorrow at home beginning at 1 p.m.

Stoh, a former Riverview star who captained Olivet College a few years back, replaced Bill Cuhnan as the Eagles' head coach. The 26-year-old Stoh feels his team has the potential to be one of the top in the area.

"WE DEFINITELY have a tough schedule," said Stoh. "We won't back any from any school. I feel we have two of the top pitchers in the area and if we get the hitting to back them up, we'll be all right."

The two "blue chippers" Stoh was referring to are All-Area hurler Rick Britz and transfer student Bob Griffin. Britz, a 6-foot-1, 175-pound righthander, was one of the bright spots to a rather dismal Romulus season in 1974. He has all of the tools to make the Eagles a winner this season.

Griffin was instrumental last season in making Lutheran West a tough customer on the diamond. Griffin is also a righthander who is 6-foot-1, 180-pounds and a senior.

Of the 27 players who showed up for the varsity tryouts the first week of practice, 10 were letter-winners. Among the notables are co-captain Don Moore, a senior centerfielder, Simon Marsiglia, co-captain who will also be groomed for a starting pitching assignment. He's 5-foot-9, 165 pounds.

STOH feels the infield is where the Eagles will have to close the gaps.

"We'll have a lot of young kids here and they'll need to be tested," the Eagle skipper offered.

However, Tom McCloskey, a junior who is versatile, appears to have the inside track on the first baseman's job, and Mick Ruffolo, a junior who is moving up from last year's junior varsity, looks good at second while Jerry Goodman, a returning letterman, will be the top candidate to play third.

CHUCK McBRIDE and sophomore Donnie McMann will share the catching duties and McMann will also play the outfield when he's not backstopping. George Butler, another senior, will work himself into the starting lineup.

Stoh, who has always been on or associated with a winning team, feels that playing an independent schedule (the Eagles aren't affiliated with a league) could handicap his team.

"It's always nice to shoot for a league championship," said the Romulus coach, "but we have the state district tournament and competition to look ahead to and believe me we will be ready for that."

MEANWHILE, New Boston Huron, coming off of an 0-14 Huron Conference season, has a core of 18 players, nine of whom won varsity stripes.

And Coach Ron Smith feels he's one season away from fielding a serious contender.

Smith will open up his 11th season as head coach on April 8 at Dundee. The game had to be rescheduled for Dundee because of the construction near the Huron diamond.

THE CHIEFS will have an excellent catcher in junior Jeff Gill who is in his third year on the varsity while Lonnie Fater, the only player to bat in the .300's, (he finished with a .305 average) after playing half of the season on the jayvees, is slated to be the No. 1 hurler.

Smith has also made some changes in the infield. He's moved Steve Kwasnik from short to third, making room for sophomore Craig Beattie who looks good.

OUTFIELDER Jim Senior and righthander Mike Viger also are among the top candidates to win starting positions.

"We were a young team last year and we're still young this year," offered Coach Smith, "but I'm sure we're going to win our share of ball games."

Said contract will provide among other things that said County will acquire certain water supply improvements and will issue its bonds in the amount of $1,000,000.00 to finance the same for the Township and said Township will pay to said County all sums necessary to retire the principal of and interest on said bonds and will pledge as security for such obligation its full faith and credit.

PURSUANT TO SUCH PLEDGE, THE TOWNSHIP WILL BE REQUIRED TO LEVY AD VALOREM TAXES ON ALL TAXABLE PROPERTY WITHIN ITS BOUNDARIES, WITHOUT LIMITATION AS TO RATE OR AMOUNT, TO THE EXTENT NECESSARY TO MAKE THE REQUIRED PAYMENTS TO THE COUNTY IF OTHER FUNDS FOR SUCH PURPOSE ARE NOT AVAILABLE.

The TOWNSHIP, pursuant to the authorization of Section 5a of Act 342, Public Acts of Michigan, 1939, as amended, irrevocably pledges its full faith and credit for the prompt and timely payment of its obligations expressed in this contract, and, except as hereafter provided, shall each year, commencing with the year 1975, levy an ad valorem tax on all the taxable property in the TOWNSHIP in an amount which, taking into consideration estimated delinquencies in tax collections, will be sufficient to pay its obligations under this contract becoming due before the time of the following year's tax collections. Such annual levies, by virtue of the authorization of Section 6, Article IX of the Michigan Constitution of 1963, shall be without limitation as to rate or amount and in addition to any other taxes which the TOWNSHIP may be authorized to levy, being for the purpose of providing funds to meet the contractual obligations of the TOWNSHIP, in anticipation of which the County bonds hereinbefore referred to are issued. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the TOWNSHIP from using any, or any combination of, the means and methods provided in Section 5a of said Act 342, Public Acts of Michigan, 1939, as now or hereafter amended, for the purpose of providing funds to meet its obligations under this contract, and if at the time of making the annual tax levy there shall be other funds on hand earmarked and set aside for the payment of the contractual obligations due prior to the next tax collection period, then such annual tax levy may be reduced by such amount, or if sufficient of such funds are so on hand and earmarked to provide for the full payment of the contractual obligations due prior to the next tax collection period, then no tax levy need be made for such year.

Phone books are delivered

Distribution of the 1975 West-Northwest area telephone directories will begin tomorrow, with delivery to be completed at the end of two weeks.

With the title, "A Book for All Seasons," the new directory cover features four seasonal photographs of Michigan scenes: an apple tree with blossoms, the Tahquamenon River near Paradise in the Upper Peninsula; autumn leaves near West Branch in Ogemaw County; and birch trees in the snow near Avery in Montmorency County.

Inside the back cover, Michigan Bell has photos of its new Design Line phones now available to customers.

For the first time, the yellow pages offer a series of shopping tips from consumers. The tips are a result of cooperative efforts between the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Detroit and Bell.
